EIGHT BADLY INJURED

Strikers Clash With Cossacks and Number of Police Officials Also Injured—120,000 People in The City Have Quit Their Work.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
St. Petersburg, July 23.—At least five striking workmen were killed and eight seriously wounded during fighting in the streets of St. Petersburg between strikers and Cossacks, which continued throughout the night and ceased only at dawn this morning. The police officials also are known to have been severely injured.

The figures quoted are official, but it is generally understood that casualties among the strikers were much heavier as it is thought probable that they concealed a number of their dead and wounded.

Official returns of the number of men who have quit work give the total of 120,000 in the city itself. These include the street car employees but do not comprise a large number of unskilled laborers in the building and other trades.

The men carrying red flags spent the night marching and singing revolutionary songs in the outlying open spaces of the capital, while in the Viborg district they cut down telegraph poles and upset a number of vans with which they constructed barricades across the streets from the shelter of which they stoned the police and Cossacks. The mob is also accused of having fired some revolver shots.

The strikers, however, eventually dispersed and the barricades were destroyed but only after the police and soldiers had been subjected to hot attacks with volleys of stones in four different parts of the city and had fired volleys from their rifles in return.

At an early hour this morning the strikers attempted to set fire to the Samson bridge leading across the river to the Viborg district and they also tried to destroy the neighboring waterworks but a strong detachment of police arrived in time.

STEAMER SAILS, CARRYING AWAY THE DEPORTED HINDUS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Vancouver, B. C., July 23.—The Japanese steamer Komagata with her load of 352 Hindus who resisted the Canadian government's order of deportation for more than three months left the harbor today bound for the Orient. The Hindu passengers made no demonstration and the services of the local multi companies which spent the night on the wharf in anticipation of another outbreak were not needed.

The Komagata was conveyed out of the harbor by the cruiser Rainbow which will accompany her to a point off Vancouver Island.

The Japanese steamer has been in port more than three months during which the status of the East Indians has been passed upon by the highest courts. The stay here has proved an exciting one for the police officials and immigration inspectors. Outbreaks have been frequent, the most serious of which occurred last Sunday morning when twenty white men were injured in attempting to board the Komagata to quell a disturbance. Provisions for the return voyage to the Orient were placed aboard the Komagata yesterday.

The cruiser Rainbow will act as convoy to the Komagata until she has passed outside the three mile limit.

BELIEVE MAN FOUND IN LAKE WAS MURDERED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, July 23.—Police are trying to solve the mystery which surrounds a man found floating near the intake pipe. The dead man, was nude and there was nothing about the body which would aid in identification. Police believe the man was murdered. What apparently is a knife wound directly beneath the heart leads to this conclusion. The body was found by George Wade, who swam out and dragged it ashore. Apparently the body had been in the water several days. The man was about 35 years old.

Delegate Leaves Capital Today For Vera Cruz to Negotiate Peace Terms

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, July 23.—A delegate authorized by Provisional President Carranza to negotiate for terms of peace with General Carranza, was due to leave Vera Cruz today for Tampico. Within two or three days an armistice suspending hostilities throughout Mexico is expected. Carranza already has notified the state department that he will agree.

Messages from Provisional President Carranza to that effect were shown today by his personal representative, Jose Castellot, to Secretary Bryan.

Mr. Castellot said the reports from Mexico City to the effect that an armistice already had been signed were premature but with the arrival of the Carranza delegates at Carranza's headquarters, such a truce would be made.

Word was received from General Carranza that he had ordered General Gonzalez and his forces at San Luis Potosi to proceed at once to Queretaro to form a junction with the forces of General Obregon. No mention was made of orders to Villa, but a brigade has occupied Aguascalientes. Carranza's telegram spoke of the occupation of that city by constitutionalists but did not say who was in command.

KING HOLDS CONFERENCE AT PALACE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, July 23.—The absence of the hitherto prompt announcement that the conversations will be resumed at the adjournment of today's home rule conference at Buckingham Palace, was generally accepted as an indication that their efforts to find a solution had failed.

The third session of the Home rule of the leaders of the Liberal Conservative, Irish Nationalist and Ulster Unionist parties called together by King George was held today at Buckingham Palace.

Since yesterday's meeting the opinion seemed to have become general that a deadlock had been reached by the referees and that the possibility of a settlement had almost vanished.

The Rt. Hon. James Lowther of the House of Commons and president of the conference who always walks from his official residence, conversed with the Duke of Devonshire on his way to the palace.

A militant suffragette caused a little diversion by rushing out of the crowd and through the gates of Buckingham Palace toward the visitors' entrance. "There she threw a stone at a window but the missile fell short. She stumbled and fell before she had got much farther on her journey and thereupon was captured by the police and taken off to the station house.

The meeting was a little more protracted than the previous ones. It was attended by Premier Asquith and Chancellor of the Exchequer David Lloyd George, representing the government, Andrew Bonar Law and the Marquis of Lansdowne, of the regular conservative opposition; John E. Redmond and John Dillon of the Irish Nationalists, and Sir Edward Carson and Captain James Craig of the Ulster Unionists.

The crucial question of the area to be excluded from the control of parliament in Dublin, under the Irish home rule measure was the chief subject of discussion. It is supposed that it was found impossible by the conferees to attain an acceptable compromise on this matter without further consideration.

After the adjournment Premier Asquith was in audience for ten minutes with King George.

John Redmond and John Dillon drove direct from the palace to Downing street where they lunched with Lloyd George.

MISSING PASTOR FOUND SELLING PAPERS IN CITY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
St. Louis, July 23.—Rev. Dr. Philip Carlin, a well known evangelist in the Southern Illinois Methodist conference who disappeared from Lebanon, Ills., two years ago has been located in St. Louis. Several days ago a man who has been selling newspapers on a corner in the West End admitted to Rev. Birkhead of a local Methodist church that he was the missing revival leader.

After a conference with Mr. Birkhead and others he signed a withdrawal from the ministry.

Dr. Carlin, who is more than 50 years old, has been a preacher in Southern Illinois for 20 years and his father, T. P. Carlin still is an active member of the Southern Illinois Methodist conference.

Carlin was surprised to find the newspapers had learned of his identity and ordered the reporters from his home with the statement: "I am through with religion and religion and law will have to take their own course."

MUST EXPLAIN WHAT BECAME OF PRIVATE PARKS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, July 23.—The case of Samuel Parks, who mysteriously disappeared at Vera Cruz in the early days of American occupation, of that city will again be brought to the attention of the government in Mexico City with a request for an explanation as to what happened to him. This will be one of the heritages to the Carranza government from the Huerta regime. Secretary Garrison said today that any further representations would be made through the state department and that he would call the matter to Secretary Bryan's attention.

General Huerta promised an investigation of the case but nothing ever came of it. Hearsay evidence was to the effect that Private Parks was executed by Mexican soldiers and that his body was destroyed.

DESPERATE YOUNG MEN DEPRIVED OF HABIT FORMING DRUGS ARE TO BE LOCKED UP

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Rochester, N. Y., July 23.—Driven desperate by their inability to purchase heroin, cocaine, morphine and other habit-forming drugs since July 1, when the new law prohibiting the sale of those drugs became effective, eight victims of drugs, all young men, applied to the police yesterday and today and asked to be locked up.

Several of the voluntary prisoners declared that if they were not placed in confinement they feared they would either commit murder or self-destruction.

"Either give us the drugs or lock us up until we are cured," summed up their appeal.

To meet the situation steps have been taken to open a hospital for the detention and treatment of the victims and others who may apply.

AUTO COLLIDES WITH RIG NEAR PATASKALA, O.

(Special to The Advocate.)
Pataskala, July 23.—A collision between an automobile driven by Earl Shupe, grocer at Columbia Center, and a buggy containing Frank Morrow of east of Pataskala and Ross Alexander and Harry Frankenberg of this place, occurred Wednesday night. Mr. Shupe was driving west on the pike and was accompanied by his wife and three children. The auto headlight was not burning but the side lamps were lighted. When the collision occurred the machine was overturned and one of the children received a slight injury, the others escaping unharmed.

The three young men in the buggy did not escape so fortunately, all three being thrown out when the buggy upset. Mr. Alexander was cut about the head and the other two were badly bruised requiring the services of a physician but no bones were broken. The young men in the rig were aged between sixteen and twenty years. Mr. Shupe and Mr. Morrow, who was driving the horse, both claim that they were on the right side of the road.

IOWA DEMOCRATS EXPECT FIGHT ON SALOON QUESTION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Council Bluffs, Iowa, July 23.—The saloon question threatened to precipitate the principal contest among Iowa Democrats here today before the opening of the Democratic state convention. Leaders on both sides prepared to fight the matter before the resolutions committee and the anti-saloon league people intimated that it would be brought up on the floor of the convention if necessary.

FORMER WIFE OF GAILLAUX

Testifies in the Murder Trial of Present Wife in Paris

COURTROOM IS CROWDED

All Eager to Hear Sensational Testimony—Prisoner Exhausted and Long Strain and Confinement is Beginning to Cause Illness.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Paris, July 23.—Judge Louis Albanel's court in the palace of justice, where Madame Gaillaux, wife of the former premier, is undergoing trial for the murder on March 16 of Gaston Calmette, editor of The Figaro, was as crowded as ever when the fourth hearing started today. Many of the people had come to see Joseph Gaillaux confronted, according to the practice of French courts, with former Premier Louis Barthou, who had been subpoenaed as a witness.

The testimony was to be concluded today with the evidence of M. Barthou and of Madame Gueydan, the first wife of Gaillaux, but before they were due to come on the stand, half a dozen other witnesses of lesser importance were to testify.

The arguments of Prosecutor General Jules Herbeaux for the prosecution and of Fernand Labori, counsel for the defense, would, it was announced, probably begin late in the day.

Mme. Gaillaux took her place in the prisoner's enclosure punctually at noon. She carried in her right hand a little vial of smelling salts and a notebook.

Ten minutes afterward the red robed judges filed in and an expectant hush fell over the crowded masses in the court room. Here and there a Japanese paper fan gave a striking note of color to the scene.

Joseph Gaillaux and his friend Pascal Cecaaldi had visited the prisoner in the Conciergerie before the hearing began. They found that the long strain was beginning to tell on her and that she felt exhausted and ill, but she showed strong determination to face her ordeal with calmness.

The testimony of the first three witnesses today concerned the two private letters which the defense sought to show Gaston Calmette intended to publish.

Gaston Dreyfus, a banker and a friend of the murdered editor, came to the stand and explained that the scientist, Paul Painleve, who had yesterday testified that M. Dreyfus had told him The Figaro was going to publish a number of private letters must have misunderstood him. He had referred to the Victor Fabre report on the Rochette swindle affair and not to private letters about which he knew nothing.

An official of the treasury department, Andre Roissier testified to being present during a conversation of a group of journalists in the lobby of the chamber of deputies, when it was stated that letters shortly would be published.

Frances Desclaux, chief private secretary of M. Gaillaux, when minister of finance, declared that Andrew E. Vervoort editor of the Paris Journal came to him and told him Madame Gueydan had proposed to him to publish two letters which she produced. He had, he said, informed M. Gaillaux of this and he exclaimed:

"But these are letters which were stolen from me. I hope no newspaper man can be found to publish them."

The rapid succession of witnesses was interrupted by the confrontation of Gaston Dreyfus and Paul Painleve both of whom maintained the accuracy of their deposition with considerable heat.

Amid much murmuring among the public Judge Albanel ended the incident by saying the jurors must be left to decide for themselves as to the accuracy of the evidence.

Andre Vervoort was next called to the stand and corroborated the testimony of M. Desclaux but was unable to say whether his interview with Mme. Gueydan had taken place before or after the marriage of M. Gaillaux to his present wife in 1911.

Maitre Labori drew from the witness the opinion that Mme. Gaillaux, not knowing as he did the character of Calmette, might well have feared the publication of her letters.

"Call Mme. Gueydan," said Judge Albanel.

Nearly everyone in court stood up to see M. Gaillaux's first wife, who has been regarded as the intrigante behind Calmette and as the person responsible for most of the misfortunes which have overcome the French statesman and his second wife.

Bo Sweeney, New Asst. Sec. of Interior.

Just plain "Bo" for that's the Assistant Secretary's own dictum. He says he was christened that way and it appeals to him and he wants no frills or furbelows to disturb the austere dignity of the name. Sweeney isn't of the sort that would inspire careless youth to play with the name, for he's a big, full-calibered man, tall, upstanding, serious-minded, dignified without assumption, and the possessor of a good deal of ability and of a host of friends on the Pacific coast. He lives at Seattle and he's a prominent Democrat who has just succeeded L. C. Laylin of Ohio.

ANGRY FARMERS TRAIL MAN WHO FIRED AT GIRL

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Zanesville, O., July 23.—A posse of farmers armed with guns were scouring the country southwest of Fultonham Wednesday night for an aged man who opened fire upon May Moore, 15, daughter of Robert Moore, a farmer, while she was driving cows through a gate near the home early in the evening.

Too frightened to give a description of her assailant, the neighbors are searching for an aged, shabbily dressed man who had been roaming about the Fultonham neighborhood for several days. Threats of violence were openly made against him last night in case he is apprehended.

Sheriff Frick was notified of the attempted shooting and will visit the scene today.

Miss Moore was driving cows through a gate when the man stepped from under a bridge.

"Don't you take these cows away from there. I have been watching them for two days," it is claimed he called to Miss Moore, and as she attempted to drive the cows on through the gate he called out, "You are going to defy me, are you?" and opened fire from a revolver, but none of the shots took effect.

Miss Moore ran to the house, and it was fully an hour before her father and neighbors could form a posse to search for him. In the meantime he had escaped.

Sheriff Frick asks the farmers of near Fultonham to be on the lookout for the alleged assailant and if he was seen to notify him at once. The man is described as being about 50 years of age, about six feet tall, with a light grey beard. He is shabbily dressed and his trousers have many patches, roughly set in.

MINES MANNED BY THE PUMPERS AND ENGINEERS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Bellaire, O., July 23.—With almost all the mines in Belmont county manned today by pumpers and engineers, Sheriff Anderson believed the troubles laid at the door of International Workers of the World agitators were nearing an end.

It was reported that many leaders had left the country, and the foreigners among the strikers were listening to the peaceful counsel of English speaking miners.

There was, however, no indication that miners and operators would agree on a working scale for the mines affected by the strike.

NO WATER HAUL IN FUMIGATION OF THIS VESSEL

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New Orleans, July 23.—Four snakes, 18 tarantulas, 70 rats, enough roaches to almost fill a barrel and "bedbugs galore" formed part of the cargo of a freight vessel sailing tropical seas and which was fumigated here yesterday, in connection with the fight against bubonic plague.

JAIL DELIVERY FRUSTRATED BY SHERIFF FRICK

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Zanesville, O., July 23.—Plans for the escape of at least five of the 11 prisoners from the Muskingum county jail were frustrated by Sheriff John Frick early Wednesday evening. He found the prisoners had broken through the wall in the top corridor and had made an avenue of escape through a chimney.

Locks on a heavy iron door leading to the top corridor were found forced open and the door left standing slightly ajar. A big hole had been cut through the brick chimney and ropes made of bed clothing for the drop to the ground were found on the first floor. Iron rods for forcing the door were broken from beds and from the banister of the corridor stairs.

Robert Lewis, alias Al Wood, alleged ex-convict, is believed to be the instigator of the plot. He was arrested near White Cottage a few days ago accused of burglarizing a Fultonham store. Recent developments show that Lewis, under the name of Wood, has served five terms in the penitentiary ranging from one to nine years, and that he was released only six weeks ago.

WILL WITNESS START OF FLIGHT ACROSS ATLANTIC

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, July 23.—After many delays because of changes necessary in the construction in the America, it now has practically been decided to ship the machine to St. Johns, New Foundland, according to a letter received from Glenn H. Curtis at Hammondsport by Henry Woodhouse, of the Aero Club of America.

Because of the gratifying tone of the letter and the statement in it that the American would be shipped by August 1, members of the club today are making arrangements for their passage to St. John to be present when Lieut. Porte makes ready to begin the flight across the Atlantic. Practically the entire accommodations of the steamer sailing on August 1 have been engaged by the aviation enthusiasts.

CONTEST BOARD REJECTS CLAIM

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, July 23.—Barney Oldfield's claim for a new automobile one mile circular track record—five miles in 3 minutes 56 1-2 seconds at Bakersfield, California, on April 22, was rejected yesterday at a meeting of the contest board of the American Automobile Association for the reason that the trial was not timed with stop watches as required by the rules.

CARDINAL GIBBONS 80 TODAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Baltimore, Md., July 23.—Cardinal Gibbons is 80 years old today. There was no formal celebration of the anniversary, the Cardinal passing the day at the country home of St. Herbert Shriver, near Westminster, Md., as has been his custom for several years.

Last year life insurance companies paid out in the United States and Canada sums totaling $646,550,000.

MENACING FACTOR IN SITUATION

Villa's Attitude Toward Carranza May Interfere With Negotiations

AMERICAN OFFICIALS

Are With Northern Leaders In Mexico Impressing Upon Them the Necessity For Co-operation—Claim That Peace Is In Sight.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, July 23.—While many obstructions still appeared to bar the way to peace in Mexico, yet dispatches today from headquarters of both constitutionalists and federals expressed views that the end of fighting was almost in sight. The most menacing factor in the equation, it was said, was the attitude of Villa toward Carranza.

Advices from Consular Agent Carothers declared, however, that there had been no fresh rupture, between those northern leaders, and that now they were working "more or less in harmony." Carothers accompanied Villa to Western Chihuahua, where he was to attempt to impress upon the general the necessity for co-operation among the revolutionary leaders. John R. Sillman, personal representative of President Wilson, was with Carranza, performing a similar office.

Dispatches from Mexico City early today told of the announcement by General Urbide, governor of the federal district, that an armistice had been signed between the federals and constitutionalists and that peace negotiations would be advanced upon a basis "giving full guarantees to everybody." Members of the constitutionalists junta in Washington said they knew of no one in Mexico City, authorized to sign truce terms for the constitutionalists, but it was reported that Carranza had been in telegraphic communication with the capital. The constitutionalists' representatives here said they interpreted the statement concerning safety guarantees as meaning that amnesty would be proclaimed for the deserving. Carranza, they contended, was disinclined to grant amnesty to political offenders.

That point, and Carranza's reported insistence that the Carral government surrender unconditionally, were disquieting elements in the situation. Carranza, it was declared, would resist Carranza's entrance into Mexico City unless the constitutionalists expressed willingness to give assurances that there would not be an attempt at wholesale arrests and executions.

Realizing that there could be a peaceful and speedy transition of power if the constitutionalists gave proper guarantees, administration officials decided their efforts toward having such terms put into effect.

Carranza's errand to Tampico, it was said today was to adjust differences between constitutionalists and local producers and merchants over the local financial system.

Treasury agents along the Rio Grande had orders today to take extraordinary precautions against the smuggling of war munitions across the border. Administration officials were determined that there be no accumulation of ammunition that might be used in a counter revolution.

IN CONFERENCE WITH GEN. VILLA

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
El Paso, Texas, July 23.—George C. Carothers, special agent of the state department left here today for Chihuahua City where he will meet General Villa and convey to him the attitude of the American government regarding the possible break between Carranza and himself.

It is understood that Carothers' mission is one of great importance, and calculated to avert any repetition of the Carranza-Villa split, in case such a danger is pending.

Villa's army officers were hurrying to their commands from all sections of Chihuahua state today in anticipation of a general movement southward of the northern division within ten days.

Secretary Bryan, encouraged by his latest dispatch from Special Agent Carothers, today issued this statement:

"Carothers, special representative of the state department, telegraphs from El Paso that he considers as unfounded all rumors of another break between Villa and Carranza. Also states that border situation is much improved."

CARRANZA FAVORS LENIENCY.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Victoria, Mex., July 22.—(Via Laredo, Texas, July 23.)—General Carranza today advocated leniency in treatment of the conquered by the victorious constitutionalists. His statement was made in a speech at a banquet tendered by Victoria citizens.

Auto Telephone Company Has Very Large Growth; New Exchange Nearly Ready

During the past ninety days, the Newark Telephone company has had one of the greatest growths in its history, having increased its list of subscribers by over three hundred telephones on the entire system, two hundred of which have been in the City of Newark, while one hundred have been scattered among other exchanges. The building of the St. Louisville Exchange, which the company started to operate the first of June, giving free service to and from Newark over automatic trunks, has now about sixty subscribers in service with as many more to be installed. The work on this installation is going forward as rapidly as possible and the lines to these subscribers have been almost completed; within the next thirty days the company expects to have them all in and working. The numbers to the St. Louisville Exchange are 1161 and 1162, and any Newark subscriber calling these numbers will be able to connect automatically with the St. Louisville operator. The St. Louisville operator is able by means of the dials installed on her switchboard to call not only the Newark subscribers direct, but also the trunk lines from Granville and Hanover which connect with the Newark automatic board.

The Newark company also owns, in addition to the plants mentioned, exchanges at Gratiot, Somerset and Glenford, which are operated under a ninety-nine year lease. The company is busy at work building new farmer lines, and is about to place underground a fifty-wire lead cable for over two miles along the National Pike between the towns of Gratiot and Brownsville, at which points it has a large telephone development.

Plans are all made for an increase in the cable capacity of the plant in all that territory of the city situated south of the railroad tracks, where there has been no room to take subscribers for nearly two years. Underground cable will be run into this territory, connecting it under the railroad tracks, in order to connect it with the main exchange, and no bare wire will be used in its connection. It is also planned to extend the Granville Street cable, which has reached its full capacity, from Thirteenth street west to the Sharon Valley road.

Below is a list of the subscribers added to the Newark Plant, which it would be well to cut out and save for future reference.

CARE OF THE HAIR IN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES.
In Southern Europe the very straight, homely appearance of the hair of lower class native women is due to its excessive greasiness and could be greatly improved upon by the elimination of all excess oil. Throughout the continent among the higher social classes great care is taken to keep the hair perfectly clean; not with soaps and makeshifts but with preparations made just for the shampoo and it is probably for this reason alone that the hair of European women is considered the most beautiful in the world. The much desired fullness and softness of hair which follow sulphur-shampoos are the result of its perfect cleansing power. You can avoid any bad condition of scalp or hair by use of this economical home-made shampoo, which is prepared very quickly by just dissolving a teaspoonful canthrox (which every drug store carries) in a cup of hot water and pouring slowly on the head as you rub briskly. This makes a wealth of rich, cleansing lather which will soon restore the fluff and lustre to the duldest hair and encourage a beautiful growth—Adv.

An experimental station in which flax hemp culture will be studied will be established by the Hungarian Ministry of Agriculture.

Week of Chautauqua Closed Successfully; Next Year's Guaranteed

The Edwin R. Weeks company of entertainers Wednesday night brought to a close Newark's first Chautauqua, and a week of genuine pleasure, instruction and interest. As has been stated the affair has been a success from an artistic and financial standpoint and Superintendent G. J. Dana's announcement from the platform that during the afternoon the necessary contracts had been closed for a return next year of Chautauqua entertainers, was greeted with hearty applause.

The company which gave an entertainment afternoon and evening was entirely satisfactory, as furnishing clean comedy, good music and that light diversion which was most to close a week of more weighty intellectual enjoyment.

Edwin R. Weeks is himself a host as a furnisher of amusement, and had the most to do at both performances. His line of witticisms brought forth roars of laughter, his impersonations of William J. Bryan, ex-President Roosevelt, Joe Cannon and Enrico Caruso, in the stellar tenor role of an Italian grand opera, were applauded to the echo while his general stage demeanor kept the audience in constant good humor.

But the star of the trio is undoubtedly Miss Olive Woodward, a young woman violinist, who even at her early age shows every indication of future virtuosity. Her tone is excellent, her technique clean and well trained, but above all, she plays with a high degree of musical comprehension and a careful interpretation of the composition she is rendering. Last night her two numbers showed a brilliant mastery of octaves, harmonies, trills and the difficulties of double stopping. In the latter, each part had its relative prominence and no more, while she played in perfect time. Her two encores were two part renditions of "My Old Kentucky Home" and another old air, in playing which she used a mute. Why a player of her resources in tone production should use a mechanical mute is not apparent, but it took well with the audience generally.

In the afternoon the feature was a lecture by J. S. Knox, on "Community Building," and the entire hour was devoted to a scathing arraignment of the mail order system, and those who patronize it.

"The man or woman who lives in a community, earns a living there, accepts the advantages it affords socially, intellectually or in business way, and then sends his money to a mail order house, or goes to another city to spend it, is a parasite on the body politic," was one of his characterizations.

"There have been 1156 Ohio municipalities that have lost population in the last ten years through the mail order house, which has stretched its blighting influence across this land of ours. The person who sends $1 to one of them is adding to commit community suicide. Last year there were 13,000 merchants who failed in this country. The most potent cause is the business," he has mentioned. The person who buys by catalogue is degraded as to quality, because he is not an expert buyer and purchases from pictures rather than samples.

"The mail order house drives out first the business man, then the live newspapers of a community, the hotels quit because traveling men do not go to any but live towns, the young men out of college looking for business opportunities shun the place and so on through to the logical conclusion, community death. And I repeat that every person who patronizes a mail order house is helping to crush local genius and pulling down his house upon his own head.

"For the building up of a town or city there must be optimism, enthusiasm, business organization, loyalty, advertising, and above all co-operation, both between residents of the community and between the farmer and city merchant."

Mr. Knox quoted California and Los Angeles. The state is prepared to spend $3,000,000 each year to send men into every other state and foreign countries to boost California. There they have capitalized the soil and very climate and it is paying a big dividend.

His address was forceful, convincing and thoroughly interesting.

Gossip from Washington

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 23.—[Special.]—Thousands of relatives of the officers of the army and navy and the soldiers and sailors who have been in Mexico and Mexican waters are looking forward to the return of this fighting force of the United States. While there have been very few complaints from the men who have been doing duty in the tropics, there has been a great deal of uneasiness among the friends at home on account of the conditions which exist in the tropics.

"You cannot grow a white man and a banana on the same quarter section of land," was a favorite phrase of former Senator Pettigrew, who was bitterly opposed to the acquisition of land in tropical countries by the United States.

A navy officer of experience says that it is a well known fact among doctors that the livers of natives of tropical countries are larger than those who live in temperate zones. Hot weather enlarges the liver, and when that takes place with adults it results in sickness and incapacity. There is fear among the army and navy surgeons that the tropical service of the troops and sailors in Mexico has resulted in enlarged livers and that all of them will be much better if brought back to the climate where they were born and bred.

An Unfair Advantage.
Congressman Bryan of Washington, the most active Progressive in the house of representatives, took an unfair advantage of the Democrats the other day and, delving into the published works of Woodrow Wilson, quoted that distinguished gentleman in praise of Theodore Roosevelt as president of the United States. What Bryan read was almost as good as what Wilson could have said about himself as a man who compelled the action of congress and secured the enactment of important and beneficial legislation. If it was not an unfair advantage it was at least "rubbing it in."

Recalled Cupid's Excursion.
It was during a criticism of a cabinet officer for using a government vessel for a trip up the coast that Congressman Clark of Florida inquired if Mr. Taft, when secretary of war, had not gone on an excursion with a lot of friends to the Philippine Islands using a government vessel.

"He was sent on public business to the Philippine Islands," responded Congressman Good of Iowa.

"But it was an excursion," insisted Clark. "There were several marriages contracted on the trip. It was a social affair." These remarks recalled the fact that Taft's trip to the Philippine Islands at that time was often called "Cupid's excursion." Nick Longworth and Alice Roosevelt were on that trip, and they became engaged at that time. Congressman Swager of Kentucky was on the trip and met the present Mrs. Taft. It is also claimed that other marriages grew out of Taft's famous excursion.

In the Limelight.
Congressman Humphrey of Washington is in the limelight with his determination to keep the house informed of all business disasters and depression throughout the United States. Congressman Fitzgerald of New York alluded to him the other day as "the official S. O. S. of the Republican party," who was constantly sending out messages of distress. Fitzgerald also went on to say that "the peculiar makeup of the gentleman's topography, if that expression properly expresses what I have in mind, enables him to talk more easily through his hat than any other man in the house."

"Well, I notice I usually get a rise out of the Democratic side," was Humphrey's retort.

A Knowing Observer.
One of the strangers in Washington wandered into the gallery of the house of representatives and sat there for an hour or so, and when he left he remarked to a friend, "These fellows are talking to get into the Congressional Record, and the Record is going to their constituents." The remark shows that the average American citizen can catch on to much of the purpose of the debate in the house if he catches his mind on the subject.

Uncle Joe Coming Back.
Reports from the Wabash region of Illinois are to the effect that Uncle Joe is coming back. Uncle Joe was defeated by a majority of only 779 votes, and there were 9,511 votes cast for the Progressive candidate. It is said that the Progressives will go back to the Republican party in sufficient numbers to insure Cannon's election, although an effort will be made to have Colonel Roosevelt go into the district in the hopes of holding the Progressive strength.

Power of the Individual.

What stands in the way of closure in the senate is the power the present system gives to every individual senator. Looking back, he can see where his consent to a unanimous agreement has been to his advantage. He knows where a group of senators or a lone senator, by the power which unlimited debate affords, has compelled a majority to yield. Always there is the possibility that some time in the future this power will be necessary in order to allow him to accomplish something of vital importance. That is why the senate will not provide closure, nor even allowing two-thirds of the senate to close debate.

Forgotten Things.

What has become of the congressman who was so insistent a few years ago upon a bill to stop the sale of firearms and to prevent "pistol totin'"? He was from the south, I believe, and was going to stop murders by restricting the sale and use of firearms. Then there was a man who was going to have a pure fabric law passed if his district elected him to congress. Half a hundred other reforms were proposed when the present congress began its work, but they have all been relegated to the limbo of forgotten things.

Picking or Selection.

Great criticism has been aroused over the action of the "picking board" of the navy. The board performed a duty authorized by law, but it has proved very unsatisfactory. The object sought is retirements so as to insure younger officers for command rank. The general opinion is that the picking board must go, and to take its place it is altogether likely that there will be a demand that hereafter officers for higher commands must be made by selection, just as general officers are now selected in the army.

Escaped the Pruning Knife.

During the consideration of an appropriation bill in the senate the statement was made that the appropriations had been largely reduced below the estimates. Senator Burton of Ohio developed an inquiring turn of mind and wanted to know if the appropriations for public buildings had been cut. Receiving a negative answer, he next inquired if the appropriations for rivers and harbors had been reduced. Again there was a negative, and Burton observed that he generally noticed that economy never seemed to strike the objects in which senators and representatives were personally interested, especially if enough of them were interested.

Effect of Hot Weather?

Chairman Fitzgerald was trying to arrange time for general debate on one of the appropriation bills, and Congressman Gillett of Massachusetts, ranking minority member of the committee, said that his side had requests for four hours of general debate.

"Is everybody on that side losing his head in this hot weather?" asked Fitzgerald. "The Republicans have been doing nothing but talking," he added. "Well," retorted Gillett, "that is all the minority is allowed to do."

Kenyon Hesitated.

Senator Kenyon of Iowa was making an argument in the senate, and in the course of his remarks said: "I may want to invite attention to the Democratic platform, though I do not want to create a riot by doing so. I may have to refer to the platform of 1912, though I do so with some hesitancy." There is an assumption on the part of the Republicans that the Democrats are not rigidly living up to their platform.

Panama or the Mississippi.

Senator John Sharp Williams was pleading for adequate improvement of the Mississippi river and drew a comparison between the river and the Panama canal. "We have spent or will spend $500,000,000 on the Panama canal," he said, "and at its very highest state of efficiency it will never amount in importance to the American people to one-tenth of the importance of the Mississippi river."

Worsted.

It is stated that worsted was first spun at Worstead, Norfolk, England, in the year 1340. Stockings made of this material were at first very cheap and used by the poorer people. Shakespeare uses the word contemptuously in the phrase, "Worsted stocking knave."—London Telegraph.

Delighting the Eye and the Ear.

"That pianist has remarkable hair," "Yes," replied the theatrical manager. "He is one of the most compact propositions I know of. Not only does he provide his own music, but he carries his own scenery."—Washington Star.

An Easy One.

GEERS BROKE WORLD'S RECORD WITH ETAWAH

(Associated Press Telegram)

Cleveland, July 23.—The principal event on the program of the Grand Circuit meeting at North Randall today was the "Tavern Steak," value $5,000 for 2:14 class trotters. Other races on the program were the 2:09 class pace; 2:18 class trotting; and 2:14 class pacing.

In a special event Wednesday afternoon at the third day of the Grand Circuit races at North Randall, Etawah III, owned by Frank G. Jones, of Memphis, Tenn., trotting a mile in 2:04, established a world's record for a 4-year-old trotter of either sex. The old record, 2:05 1-4, was made in 1893 by Directum. Geers drove Etawah and was paced by a runner.

In the morning Geers drove Anvil, another Jones horse, a mile in 2:02 3-4, the fastest mile trotted this season. Anvil also became the fastest record trotter in training.

Geers also drove Napoleon Direct to victory in the best race of the meet so far, the last event of the day. Six heats were required to pick the winner in the 2:32 pacing class. After Shadeline had captured the first, Napoleon Direct took the second, and then Coastless Mabel came to the front and won the next two heats. Napoleon Direct, however, outspurred Coastless Mabel in a thrilling brush down the stretch and took the last heat and the race.

The second event of the afternoon, the North Randall stake for 2:20 class trotters, also furnished several surprises. Margaret Druten, the favorite, captured the first two heats without much trouble. Sienna, who ran third and second, respectively, in the first two heats, came back strong and captured the next three heats. In the second heat Geers drove The Guide in third, being the first time Geers had shown this season.

Oakdale won the first event, for 2:09 class trotters in two straight heats.

NOSTRILS AND HEAD STOPPED UP FROM COLO? TRY MY CATARRH BALM

Instantly Clears Air Passages; You Breathe Freely; Dull Headache Goes; Nasty Catarrh Discharge Stops.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm."

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrh sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dripping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is a sign you have been eating too much meat which forms uric acid.

When you wake up with the backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid, which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

Subway Situation.

By the determined and unceasing efforts on the part of a comparatively few citizens of Newark, the elimination of the dangerous grade crossings from First to Sixth streets over the right of way of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio steam railroads, will become an actuality in the comparatively near future, by the construction of subways.

The history of the subway matter up to the present status, is of comparative recent development, and the accomplishment will mean that Newark has taken a long step toward the front rank of cities, having taken radical and effective action toward protecting the lives of citizens from needless sacrifice upon the altar of municipal and corporate penuriousness.

Without detracting from the value of the efforts of any individual it is probably due to say that the South Newark Citizens Association is deserving of first mention for the initial propaganda, and sustained effort toward making the subways an actuality of no remote anticipation.

This association held many meetings in the Pataskala street chapel, during the fall and winter months of 1911-'12 and '13. The sentiment was strong among those living below the tracks for subways but the proposition looked up as almost insurmountable, and it was seen that this sentiment must be broadened; the necessity and desirability for the elimination of grade crossings would have to rest upon a broader foundation of argument than the convenience of residents of the portion of the city lying south of the railroad tracks. To create this impression generally throughout the city, and convince the majority, yes, two thirds of the citizens that it meant greater opportunities to the whole city, as well as almost absolute freedom from distressing and often fatal accidents at the railroad crossings, was a herculean task, and many times there were discouragements that made some ready to quit.

But there were a few who never gave up, they inspired those of weaker faith, and the campaign was launched for authority to issue bonds in the sum of $240,000 to furnish funds to pay the city's share of the cost of the improvement. This authority had to be gotten from the electors in the city at large, and by a two-thirds majority.

This was in the summer and fall of 1913, and the campaign of education was carried on in a most effective and diligent manner, with the result that at the November election the proposed bond issue carried by a handsome vote.

This was followed by the action of the city council several months ago, by which the necessary ordinance was passed to issue the bonds, and today everything is in readiness from the city's financial standpoint to begin the construction.

It is true the bonds have not yet been sold or advertised, but this can be done in less than a month at any time it is deemed advisable.

Plans have been drawn for the subway, which have been approved by the engineering departments of both railroads and the city. A meeting was held last week by the railroad and city officials and some talk was had about the actual construction work. This must be done by a contract, signed by both the city and the companies, as parties. It was left to Solicitor Ralph Norpell to draw up this contract, which will be submitted to the railroads' legal departments for approval.

When the city's legal advisor and those of the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore & Ohio roads agree upon the manner in which the work is to be done, the whole matter is then passed up to the roads' executive general officers, the bonds will be sold, the contract executed on behalf of the city and the big improvement, involving an expenditure of nearly three quarters of a million dollars, will be built.

City Auditor Dodd is holding the bonds and not offering them for sale, for the very excellent reason that there is no use in selling these bonds, getting this $240,000 or any great part of it, and pay interest upon it until it is needed for the actual work.

These bonds will bear date of May 1st, 1914, and draw interest from that date, payable semi-annually. When they are sold the buyer must pay the accrued interest besides par value. At the end of every six months the interest coupons which have matured are payable, and they would be torn off and turned in by the purchaser of the bonds. Any amount accruing as interest during any of these six months periods would be paid by the city in cash, when the bonds were sold and delivered.

In other words, the city is saving the interest on these bonds or any part of them left unsold, and there is no reason to sell them until the money is actually needed to begin the work.

Thus stands the subway matter, and there is every reason for many, in a position to give a valuable opinion on the matter, to believe that the construction of the Newark subways will begin not later than next March, when the weather is favorable for this kind of work.

By the Way

By the time a man has reached the age of fifty the raffle is over. But it usually takes him about ten years to realize that he hasn't drawn anything.

If an infidel wishes to attract a great deal of attention he must live in a small town.

When a girl dreams, it is that she is being married in a church crowded with former suitors who are crying so loud that the strains of the wedding march can not be heard.

In your search for the grotesque and the ridiculous, do not overlook the ears of the men.

A few men are naturally polite. The fact that a competitor has set up an opposition business inspires others to courtesy.

"The only thing you can say against him," said Buck Kilby yesterday, in discussing Adam Ellington, "is that he eats more than he can earn."

Most of the rich relatives are invented.

Mr. F. H. Ballou, the well known Newark horticulturist, makes use of seven very expressive words in his current publication: "Great Land of Goodness—Ohio, that's all."

"Well, sir, you know this paper never takes anything back."

"That may be your policy, but by heck," said the angry man, "I'm not dead, sir, and I won't stand for any blame paper that's printed saying I am."

"As I said before," calmly replied the editor, "this paper does not take back anything. If you insist, however, that you have been misrepresented, we will put you among the births in our next issue. That ought to square it."

HOT DAYS.

The summer is here among us, thermometers swell, and burst; the weather man off has stung us, and now he has done his worst. The sky is like brass at present, the sky that was lately blue—but off where it's cool and pleasant they're having their troubles, too! The breezes that come a-slowing their way through the sweating town, seem fresh from a red hot oven, all baked to a luscious brown; and so, in despairing legions, we simmer and steam and stew—but up in the arctic regions they're having their troubles, too! We sigh for the ocean breezes, we sigh for the snow-capped hills, we long for the forest trees, the lakes or the rippling mills; our mouths are becoming fountains of words of a rich, dark blue—but off in the woods and mountains they're having their troubles, too! We're cursing around together, we say that the climate's bad; but, listen! It isn't weather that maketh man gay or sad! Let's dig up a better topic than weather that's gone askew, and e'en though the summer's tropic, we'll all have our pleasures, too!

Street Flusher.

Editor Advocate:—I have been watching the operation of the flushing machine since its advent into the city, as to what effect it will have on our brick street pavements. I am afraid so far as my observation goes, it simply washes the sand out gradually between the bricks, and in time will ruin the pavement, and not only this, the sand being washed into the sewers, will, in time, I am thinking, clog them up. The city has flushed East Locust street twice in the last two weeks, and left the dirt in the gutter both times. Yesterday I cleaned up the gutter, 35 feet front, and I got two wheelbarrow loads of pure sand. This satisfies me that every time they flush the street they take off the pavement a quantity of sand. The joints between the bricks indicate this to be the fact, as you can notice the joints are not full, and the pavement has a rough appearance. I hope I may be wrong as to my way of thinking, but it would be well enough for the city authorities to go slow, and examine into the matter.

Motor Driving in Germany.

It is an astonishing fact that a blind man may drive a motorcar in the United Kingdom. Any one who has a driving license, which can be obtained on the payment of 5 shillings without any test of qualification, is entitled to drive a car whether he is able to do so or not.

The German method is in strong contrast to that of England. If a German wishes to drive a motorcar he must first take out a one month's tuition license, which permits him to learn to drive. At the end of the month he is taken into the heart of a large city and, with an official by his side, is made to drive in and out of the traffic.

One little slip, a slight hesitation in slowing up, and back he is put for another month of tuition. There are many cases in which even three months' tuition is insisted on, and there are others in which licenses are refused altogether. The result of this is that the accident percentage in Berlin is only half that of London.—Manchester News.

Shaking Hands.

Cheerful Idiot—I was quite excited just now seeing two men shake hands. Johnson—What can there possibly be exciting about the simple ceremony of handshaking? Cheerful Idiot—Oh, each man had his hand doubled up and was shaking it under the other fellow's nose!—London Telegraph.

Paragraphs

Better Business.

The crops make the railroads feel that it is safe to let go of a little money, and just as soon as they go shopping among the foundries and rolling mills and car shops everybody hears that business is better, and the strength of that goes out and spends some money, and that makes business better. The Gary shops are now running with a full force five days in the week instead of with a reduced force three days. The Burlington Railroad shops in Aurora, Ill., have more men at work than ever before. The American Woolen Company has put its new goods for men's light-weight wear on sale at prices higher than it made a year ago. Here and there in every direction, except in the Republican Campaign Headquarters, are indications of more business and greater confidence.—Philadelphia Record.

At Bar of Justice.

President Wilson has been very patient with the directors of the New Haven Railroad. Attorney-General McKeen has been more than patient. As a reward for the Administration's efforts to help bring about a peaceful solution of the New Haven's difficulties with the United States Government, under the Sherman law, the President and Attorney-General have alike been tricked by directors who deliberately broke their "solemn agreement," with the Department of Justice. In ordering the Attorney-General to institute dissolution proceedings and to submit "the criminal aspects of the case" to a Federal Grand Jury, Mr. Wilson describes the conduct of the New Haven's directors as "inexplicable and entirely without justification." This, in the circumstances is very moderate criticism.—New York World.

Some Women Don't.

A philosopher has declared that every noble deed lasts longer than a marble monument, but the common experience is that the woman to whom you give your seat in the crowded car forgets the courtesy before she flops into the seat.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Railroad Rate Decision.

The railroad-rate decision, it is now confidently predicted, will arrive some day this week. The Interstate Commerce Commission will never get into trouble for overspeaking.—New York World.

Joseph Fitzgibbon appeared at the breakfast table a few mornings ago somewhat listless and quite without appetite. He looked about with an appraising eye and said, "I don't think I want any breakfast; I'm full." "Why, Joseph," said his mother, "you haven't eaten anything, how could you be full?" "Well," he replied, "I think that ice cream and cake I ate last night hasn't DEVELOPED yet."

Young George was experiencing the gastric delights of his first buckwheat cakes. He ate and ate until his father expostulated, "George, you can't have any more. You'll kill yourself," he said. George bent his head in apparent submission to this fiat, but at the end of several minutes he looked up and said, "Father, I've thought it all over and I think I'd LIKE to die eating buckwheat cakes."

According to The Multitude, Sammy was not prone to overexertion in the classroom; therefore his mother was both surprised and delighted when he came home one noon with the announcement, "I got 100 this morning."

"That's lovely, Sammy," exclaimed his proud mother and she kissed him tenderly. "What was it in?" "Pity in reading and fifty in 'rithmetic."

Young Bob had acquired ten cents and hastened off to find his chum to help him spend it. Presently he was seen returning with lagging steps and frowning brow and an inquiry into the cause developed the fact that Jimmie's mother would not permit him to go. "Why not?" he was asked. "She said he had INDIGNATION," replied Bob. "Indignation?" queried his mother, mystified. "Yes," explained Bob, "she said he'd got too many peanuts and had indignation."

The Novelist Rebuked.
The late George Alfred Townsend (Gath) was lunching in New York one day when a novelist of the realist-pessimist school began to growl about marriage.

Gulping his drink and bolting his boiled beef and cabbage, the novelist in a long harangue proved conclusively that marriage was a failure.

When he had finished Gath gazed at him mildly and said:

"I tell you what it is, Ed—when a man thinks marriage is a failure it's pretty blamed certain that his wife thinks so too."

IF YOUR SKIN ITCHES, JUST USE RESINOL

The moment that Resinol Ointment touches itching skin, the itching stops and healing begins. That is why doctors have prescribed it successfully for nineteen years in even the severest cases of eczema, totter, ringworm, rashes and other tormenting, unsightly skin eruptions. Aided by warm baths with Resinol Soap, Resinol Ointment restores the skin to perfect health and comfort, quickly, easily and at little cost.

You need never hesitate to use Resinol. It contains absolutely nothing that could injure the tenderest skin—even of a tiny baby. No other treatment for the skin now before the public can show such a record of professional approval. All druggists sell Resinol Ointment (50c) and Resinol Soap (25c). For trial free, write to Dept. KK, Resinol Baltimore, Md. Avoid substitutes by calling for "Resinol" by name. Unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer worthless imitations.

is the perfect food for men and women who do things with hand or brain. It supplies all the body-building material in the whole wheat grain in digestible form. A food for the outdoor man and the indoor man, for youngsters and grown-ups, for athletes and invalids, for any meal in any season. Ask your grocer.

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness; then pour over it milk or cream, adding salt or sugar to suit the taste. Deliciously nourishing for any meal in combination with berries or other fruits of any kind. Try toasted Triscuit, the Shredded Wheat wafer, for luncheon with butter, cheese or marmalades.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE PHYSICIAN WHO DIFFERS WITH GOV. BLEASE

Bloodhounds Fail to Pick Up Trail and Excitement Prevails in Columbia.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbia, S. C., July 23.—Dr. J. H. McIntosh, who has figured in a political exchange with Governor Cole Blease was shot today by an unknown assailant. The wound is not dangerous. Blease had announced that when he spoke in Columbia he would call Dr. McIntosh to the platform and confront him with certain statements.

Dr. McIntosh says his assailant after shooting made off, shouting: "Now you won't bother Cole Blease tomorrow."

Bloodhounds have failed to pick up a trail and the city and surrounding country have been thrown into a commotion over the affair. At the capital a statement was issued saying Blease regretted the affair and that the governor's office would lend all possible aid for the capture of the assailant.

GOLF PLAYERS RETURN MATCH AT CAMBRIDGE

About 18 members of the Mount-builder's Golf Club went to Cambridge at noon today where they took part in a match with the club representing the Country Club of Guernsey county. This is a regularly scheduled match in the Southeastern Ohio Golf Association. When Cambridge played here two weeks ago the home team was nosed out of a victory by the close score of 29 1-2 to 27 1-2.

Coshocton is scheduled to play at Zanesville today.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

Grandma kept her locks dark, glossy and thick with a simple mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandma's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we won't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. AUTO CRASHES INTO BUGGY IN PUBLIC SQUARE

When the Fire-Stone Columbus roadster of Peter P. Douglas, driven by himself, crashed into a buggy driven by Cary Wolfe, on the southeast corner of the public square Wednesday evening at 3:30 o'clock, a woman who was in the buggy with Mr. Wolfe was thrown out on the pavement and severely bruised. The impact of the automobile with the buggy knocked the horse down, and the buggy ran over the body of the horse, cutting and lacerating it and breaking the shafts of the buggy.

The auto was turning from South Park Place into East Park Place, and to pass two other automobiles that were proceeding in the same direction turned and crashed into the buggy. Eye witnesses of the accident, state that the auto was proceeding at a moderate rate of speed before it struck the buggy.

The wind shield of the automobile was broken, the fenders bent, the radiator crushed and the front lamps broken.

The engine of the machine was not stopped by the accident. The driver backed away from the buggy and drove the machine north in front of the Warden Hotel, stopped, got out of his machine and returned to the scene of the accident.

CHANGE IN THE NURSE STAFF AT CITY HOSPITAL

In the past week numerous changes have been made in the personnel of the staff at the City Hospital and today the new attendants are found in charge. Miss Heard of New York City, who has been superintendent, has been replaced by Mrs. Edith Leibo of Columbus. Mrs. Leibo is a graduate from Grant Hospital at Columbus.

The surgical nurse Miss Dean, has also severed her connection with the City Hospital, and is succeeded by Miss Bada Johnson. Miss Craig has been succeeded by Miss Rable.

To Discard Freckles, Tan, Pimples, Wrinkles

The use of creams on the face sometimes causes hair to grow. You can avoid the risk of acquiring such a nuisance by avoiding cosmetics and using mercolized wax instead. There is nothing better for any condition of the skin, as the wax actually absorbs the offensive cuticle. The overred, blotchy or pimply skin. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at any druggist and apply nightly like cold cream, crasing in the morning with soap and water. It takes a week or so to complete the transformation. The ideal wrinkle eradicator is made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. Batching the face in the solution brings almost instantaneous results. Advertisment.

The Courts

Seeks a Divorce.
Anna Holland, in the Common Pleas court, by her attorneys, Smythe & Smythe, asks divorce from Robert Holland.

There are four children, Charles M., aged 16, Zinthia, aged 15, Ruth, aged 10, and Sarah, aged 8. They were married Aug. 5, 1897.

The plaintiff alleges extreme cruelty and specifies several dates on which the defendant knocked her down and threatened to kill her with a revolver. He is an able bodied man earning $17 per week, and she charges that he does not provide for her. She further alleges that she has cause to fear that he will do her bodily injury.

A temporary injunction was granted by Judge T. B. Fulton against his interfering with her or the children. She asks for a divorce, alimony and custody of the children.

Admitted to Probate.
The will and codicil of Jacob S. Youmans, late of Pataskala, was admitted to probate Thursday morning. Merrill E. Mead and Brigg M. Youmans were appointed administrators with bond fixed at $120,000.

Granted Divorce.
Dr. Joseph W. Barker was granted a divorce in the Common Pleas court by Judge T. B. Fulton Thursday morning. The defendant was found guilty of gross neglect of duty. Joseph Horner was attorney for the plaintiff.

MRS. HAGGERTY IMPROVED.
The condition of Mrs. Sarah Haggerty who was stricken with paralysis at the home of her son Charles Hinkel in Kibler avenue, was somewhat improved today. She recognized her son and took a little nourishment, but is still seriously ill.

MAY NOW RECOVER.
Harry W. Rossel continues to improve with his serious illness due to blood poisoning, at his home in Granville street. There is now more hope for his ultimate recovery.

FORMER NEWARK INSTRUCTOR HAS ISSUED TEXT BOOK

Prof. C. M. Bookman, former instructor in the commercial department of the Newark High School, has written a new commercial textbook, entitled, "Business Arithmetic." After leaving Newark Prof. Bookman went to Columbus where he was head of the mathematics departments of the High School of Commerce. The book, just issued, is published by the American Book Company.

"Strict conformity to modern conditions" is the keynote of the volume, as set forth by the author in his preface. "Through the elimination of useless material," says the preface, "the complete subject is presented in a one-term course. Speed, accuracy, correct methods—these are the demands of modern business, and they have been fully met."

Throughout the pages of the book—250 of them—there may be found an abundance of problems for oral and written exercise, and vocational, agricultural and manual training applications are generously provided. There are chapters devoted to railroad rates and the parcel post system.

Granville

(Special to The Advocate)
Granville, July 23.—Mrs. John Larimore, who had lost her eyesight, is in Grant Hospital, Columbus, having undergone a successful operation for cataract. Her condition is reported favorable.

Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Stanton left this morning for Indianapolis.

Rev. Millard Brelsford, pastor of the Baptist church, who spent a part of last week at his father's home in St. Paris, O., is at home for a few days.

Mrs. Clarence Rddy, who has been spending the summer with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Hartford in Elm street, left for her home in Indianapolis this morning, accompanied by her two little children.

Miss Clara Hessin, who has been in Grant Hospital for the past three weeks, has returned to her home in Granville greatly improved in health.

Miss Alieret Chrysler is in Grant Hospital, Columbus, where she will undergo a delicate operation on her throat tomorrow or Saturday.

Prof. A. D. Cole, who spent yesterday in Columbus, will return to Granville today.

By attending the sale on Saturday, friends of the Downer family will have an opportunity of securing some memento of this home which was established in Granville over sixty-four years ago. Valuable papers have been consigned to the care of W. H. Cathcart of Cleveland, president of the Northwestern Historical Society, and many books donated to the Granville Public Library.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Jones motored to Zanesville this morning, where they will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Granger.

WHY FAT RETURNS IF TAKEN OFF BY EXERCISE:

Since fat is the result of particularly easy assimilation of food, which too readily turns into fatty substances, the exercise for reduction must be very vigorous to tear down the tissues and as rapidly as exercise builds a larger muscular foundation, more fat is developed. For the early part of the time which you are exercising flesh is turned to muscle, but the action of the stomach being unchanged and the flesh being more easily developed than muscle it is not long until the exercise has increased the weight. Of late years, the slender form is possible without making oneself miserable by dieting or indulging in violent exercises to reduce fat. Make use of this simple reducer and your weight will soon be just where you want it. Dissolve 4 ounces parnotis (which every good druggist has in his store) in 1-2 pints hot water; when it cools strain and take a tablespoonful before meals. This parnotis reducer acts gently, is quite harmless and entirely satisfactory results are quickly attained. It leaves the flesh firm and well moulded.—Adv.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rottenhouse of 66 Mill street, announce the birth of a daughter, Bessie.
Critically Ill.
The condition of William F. Smith, who has been ill at his home in Columbia street, is reported as being critical today.

Ladies' Aid Society.
The Ladies' Aid Society of Elizabeth M. E. church of Neal avenue will meet on Friday afternoon, July 24, at 2 o'clock at the church.

Early Edition Today.
In order that the Advocate may give the carrier boys an outing at Buckeye Lake this evening, today's paper is published at 2:30 o'clock.

Birth Announcement.
Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Fisher of 91 Penney avenue, announce the birth of a son, Charles Milburn. Mrs. Fisher was formerly Miss Mary Roach.

Work on City Building.
The stucco work on the west side of the remodeled city building is being completed, and when this is finished the building will present a really very creditable appearance.

Freight Wreck.
A number of cars of a freight train buckled on the tracks running parallel with Clinton street early Thursday morning and plunging down the embankment, tore up the yards of the adjoining homes. The wreck was cleared in a short time and no damage was done.

Priest Reunion.
The Priest family will hold their annual reunion on Saturday, August 1, at the Licking county fair ground, known as Moundbuilders' Park. Friends and relatives are requested to bring their baskets and enjoy a day's outing. Speaking, vocal and instrumental music will be features of the afternoon.

Foreigner Injured.
George Gantz, a worker on the National Pike, had his left knee seriously hurt Wednesday by being struck by a machine with which he was working. He was brought to Newark on the Shawnee train and taken to the hospital in Bazler & Bradley's ambulance. The injured man is a Russian whose home is in Atherton.

Sunday School Picnic.
The members of the Second Presbyterian Sunday school went to Moundbuilders' Park shortly after noon today, in special cars for a lunch toward evening. O. C. Parill, superintendent of the school, Rev. Don D. Tullis, pastor of the church, and the teachers of the different classes had charge of the affair, and a pleasant afternoon was spent.

No Fire Loss.
A telephone alarm of fire about 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning called the Central department's apparatus to the rear of Otto Steinmeier's Grocery in Wilson street, where a lattice screen in front of an outbuilding had caught fire from gasoline escaping from a tank had been ignited. The building was owned by Harry Reinbolt. The loss was negligible.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY
as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is folded to the food you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.
